

CITY OF HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKY

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE City of Hopkinsville Lifts COVID Restrictions

Hopkinsville, KY (May 19, 2021) – City officials announced today that people entering the Hopkinsville Municipal Center or other city buildings will no longer be required to have temperature checks or wear facial coverings effective immediately. Those who wish to continue wearing face coverings may do so at their discretion. Individuals experiencing COVID-19 symptoms should not enter city buildings. Rather, they are strongly encouraged to seek appropriate medical attention.

Public Meetings

City Council, Committee of the Whole, and other public agencies will resume holding in-person meetings without public social distancing or other COVID-related restrictions. If you wish to watch virtually, please be reminded that all City Council and Committee of the Whole meetings are streamed live for free online at hoptown.org/tv. Both Live Streaming and Video on Demand may be accessed from computers, laptops, or mobile devices (e.g., iPad, smart phone, or tablet). Viewers may also watch meetings through Facebook Live @CityofHopkinsville or by tuning in to Spectrum Channel 376.

For additional information or inquiries about the city's response to COVID-19, please call Healthy-at-Work Coordinator Kenneth Grabara at (270) 890-0264 or Hoptown Hotline at (270) 887-4000. You may also visit hoptown.org or @CityofHopkinsville on Facebook or Twitter. COVID-specific information is available at hoptown.org/covid.
