

Call for Vendors!

We invite you to join thousands of visitors for the 3rd Annual Hopkinsville International Festival at the James E. Bruce Convention Center on Saturday, September 24, 2011.

It is easy to see how our community has become so diverse with 13 international businesses and residents from all corners of the globe living in Christian County. Organizers promise fun from around the world including international music, dance, food, arts and crafts, and activities for the entire family. What an opportunity to celebrate this wonderful diversity at an event that continues to promote such a vast cultural exchange!

Admission is free for visitors but they will want to purchase food and crafts. If you would like to have a food, arts/crafts, and/or display booth at the Hopkinsville International Festival, please contact Jennifer Patterson at 270-885-9096 or email ifest@hopkinsvilleky.us.
